FEATURED WINES

Wayfarer, Fort Ross-Seaview, Chardonnay

The land upon which Wayfarer Vineyard sits has worn several hats since its founding by Dave and Dorothy Davis in the 1970's. Living on the farm, the couple provided organic produce to local Sonoma County restaurants, raised livestock, spun wool, and even began a boarding school for teens.

Wayfarer was sold in 1998 to Helen Turley who recognized the land's potential host a world class vineyard. Helen brought in vintner Jason Pahlmeyer who began blending the grapes with wines under the Pahlmeyer moniker. By 2012, the exceptional fruit coming from Wayfarer had earned it the right to a namesake label. This Chardonnay is hand harvested at pre-dawn hours and whole cluster pressed with 65% being fermented in new French Oak. It is then barrel aged for 15 months and bottled unfinned and unfiltered. Tasting notes: Apricot, apple, and butterscotch aromas with undertones of toasted oak. Medium bodied with a soft mouthfeel balanced out by light acidity.

Flavors of stone fruit harmonize well with soft hints of vanilla. A crisp yet long finish makes for well balanced and structured Chardonnay. A must try for fans of California Chardonnays.

98pts, Wine Enthusiast, Editor's Choice, 2016.

La Jota Vineyard Co. Howell Mountain, Napa Valley, Cabernet Franc

Founded in 1898, La Jota Vineyards emerged when European immigrant Frederick Hess purchased a 327 acre plot of land on Howell Mountain. Hess saw opportunity in the shallow, rocky soil, and cool climate of Howell Mountain as these were characteristics affiliated with top producing European wine regions.

As early as 1900, La Jota Vineyards was earning global recognition when it earned a bronze medal at the Paris Exposition. Unfortunately, prohibition saw to the end of La Jota and it wasn't until 1974 that the property was purchased and grapes were replanted. In 2005, the winery changed hands and is currently owned by Jackson Family Wines.

Today La Jota operates much like it did in its early years. Producing small plots of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and Cabernet Franc, La Jota has planted 28 acres of grapes across three estate vineyards. Even the original stone winery has been restored. This 2014 Cabernet Franc is truly representative of Howell Mountain fruit.

Aromas of dark fruit with light spice are followed flavors of blueberry, plum, and dark chocolate. A medium bodied wine with a soft mouthfeel and smooth tannins. The finish leaves hints of vanilla. Well balanced with firm structure and a solid backbone. A favorite of ours at a recent tasting and one of our newest wines.

Hickinbotham, "Trueman", McLaren Vale, South Australia, Cabernet Sauvignon

The Clarendon Vineyard from which this Cabernet Sauvignon originates can trace its origins back to 1858 when it was founded by colonist Edward John Peake. The wines produced here gained notoriety early on, winning medals at several shows in Australia and Paris during the mid-1860s. Despite its success, the rippling effects of the great depression led to a major contraction of the Australian wine industry and most of the vineyard was uprooted in 1933. A small parcel of grapes survived, and the land was purchased in the 1970s by Alan Hickinbotham Jr. in a last-minute auction.

Under winemakers Charlie Seppelt and Chris Carpenter, Hickinbotham continues to honor the legacy of Clarendon Vineyard and this Cabernet Sauvignon is a testament to just that.

The grapes are hand harvested and fermented in open top fermenters with daily pump overs. Minimum juice to skin contact time is 21 days followed by basket pressing and fifteen-month barrel aging in Bordeaux-coopered barrels.

Dark fruit and savory herb with light florals comprise the aromatics. Flavors consist of plum, black cherry, and dark chocolate. Full bodied and elegant with slightly grainy tannins. A long finish with notes of light spice and tobacco. A complex wine to enjoy alone or with one of our many great dishes.

Gold Medal, TEXSOM International Wine Awards, 2017
